

Newton Flotman Newspaper Articles

ID	FullName	Category	Date	Publication	Notes
1	SCOTT Robert	Crime	09.10.1844	The Bury and Norwich Post	CHARGES OF FRAUD ON THE EXCISE, Informations have also been laid against a great many other persons here, whose cases have not yet been heard. On Friday last, Mr. P. A. Morrison, wine and spirit merchant of this city, was charged with having sold a quantity of whisky to Mr. Robert Scott, of the Maid's Head, Newton Flotman. in this county, he having only a retail license, and having thereby subjected himself to a fine of 50l. Mr. Jay appeared to support the information, and Mr. Thomas Palmer, for the defence. Mr. Jay said, this information was founded on the 6th of Geo. IV., which says, that no person having but a retailer's license shall sell liquor to any dealer in spirits, under the above penalty. He called Mr. George Serjeant, Excise officer, who said he lived at Shottisham. He took some whiskey from Mr Scott's on the 14th of April; there was one gallon, and 13-16ths of whiskey, in a bottle, and there appeared to have been a pint and a half taken out, supposing it to have been full. It was in the cellar, and round it he found a note which had not been opened, directed to Mr. Scott ; it was as follows: " Dear Sir,-The permit for the whisky is in Mr. Micklethwait's name, and must be kept out of the way." Mr. Scott was a retailer of spirits, and kept the Maid's Head, Newton. The letter was directed to "Mr. C. Micklethwait, Newton." He (Mr. Serjeant) could not find any person of that name in Newton, but in Saxlingham he found a person of that name at Mr. Wilkerson's, the clergyman ; but when he went there the young gentleman positively denied having anything to do with the transaction. He was a pupil of Mr. Wilkerson's, and there were several young gentlemen there training for college. The officer said that -Mr. Scott told him that he had it come in Micklethwait's name that his brewer might not know it, and then again that it was for Mr Micklethwait himself; but Mr. Scott himself denied having said anything of the sort to the officers. Robert Young, another officer, corroborated the chief officer's account and they then called Scott on the part of the prosecution. Mr. Palmer then said the evidence of the officers as to what Scott said, could not be taken, inasmuch as they now called the man himself, and Scott in his examination denied having said anything of the sort, and added that he was only tied to his brewer for brandy, rum, and gin. Mr. W. N. Micklethwait said he resided at Taverham Hall. He did not recollect ordering any whiskey of Mr. Morrison, but he might have done so. About a week previously to the bottle coming, he was at Scott's house, and Mr. Morrison was also there. He called for a glass of whiskey. Mr. Scott had none; when Mr. Sayer, who was also there, said "There is a liquor merchant, he will send you some," but he did not recollect ordering any. The Magistrates having heard the whole affair, thought there was no case against .Mr. Morrison, and dismissed the summons.
2	GARROD Elizabeth	Marriage	06.11.1844	The Bury and Norwich Post	NORWICH, NOV. 4. MARRIED. Same day [29 Oct 1844], Mr. Jas. Gooch, of Shotesham. to Eizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. Garrod. of Newton
3	HARVEY Harriet Jane	Marriage	01.12.1847	The Bury and Norwich Post	NORWICH. NOV. 29. MARRIED. Same day [22 Nov 1847], at Mundford Church, Mr. Joseph Crane, carver and gilder, of this city, to Harriet Jane, eldest daughter of Mr. Geo. Harvey, farmer, of Newton Flotman.
4	MUSKETT Charles	Burial	01.01.1850	The Ipswich Journal	DIED. 23 rd ult. [23 Dec 1849], at Fressingfield, in his 77th year, Charles Muskett, Gent., where he had resided upwards of half a century; during which period his uniform conduct was highly respectable and exemplary, and a numerous party of the honest poor and needy have to regret the loss of a kind, liberal and generous benefactor: his remains were removed to his native parish, Newton Flotman, near Norwich, for interment in the family vault of his ancestors.

ID	FullName	Category	Date	Publication	Notes
5	LYNG Rev. Henry	Crime	18.12.1852	The Ipswich Journal	ROBBERY AT NEWTON FLOTMAN. On the night of the 25th ult., the Rev. Henry Ling, of Newton Flotman, had a party of magistrates to dinner. During the repast, some thieves entered the stable-yard, and stole from the vehicles there a pilot coat, a wrapper, horse rug, stable jacket, gig umbrella, and a pair of shoes. Information was forwarded to Superintendent Mason, of Ipswich. Nothing was heard of the property until the evening of the 8th inst., when a person who stated his name to be Robert Youngman, of Newton Flotman, called at the shop of Mr. Fraser, in St. Mary Elms, where he offered the coat in pledge. He was handed over to the police. Upon further inquiries, the remainder of the property was found in the possession of the ostler at the Fleece Inn, St. Matthews, with whom they had been left by Youngman. On Saturday the case was heard before the magistrates, at the Castle of Norwich, when Youngman was committed for trill! at the next sessions.
6	YOUNGMAN Robert	Crime	18.12.1852	The Ipswich Journal	ROBBERY AT NEWTON FLOTMAN. On the night of the 25th ult., the Rev. Henry Ling, of Newton Flotman, had a party of magistrates to dinner. During the repast, some thieves entered the stable-yard, and stole from the vehicles there a pilot coat, a wrapper, horse rug, stable jacket, gig umbrella, and a pair of shoes. Information was forwarded to Superintendent Mason, of Ipswich. Nothing was heard of the property until the evening of the 8th inst., when a person who stated his name to be Robert Youngman, of Newton Flotman, called at the shop of Mr. Fraser, in St. Mary Elms, where he offered the coat in pledge. He was handed over to the police. Upon further inquiries, the remainder of the property was found in the possession of the ostler at the Fleece Inn, St. Matthews, with whom they had been left by Youngman. On Saturday the case was heard before the magistrates, at the Castle of Norwich, when Youngman was committed for trill! at the next sessions.
7	DRAKE William John	Crime	25.03.1854	The Ipswich Journal	SUFFOLK. LENT ASSIZES. - The Judges appointed to preside are the Chief Justice, Lord Campbell, and the Chief Baron, Sir. F. Pollock. Their lordships will be met at the usual place upon their arrival from Norwich, by Windsor Parker, Esq., the High Sheriff, and the usual cortege, and the commission will be opened at the County Hail. In the County Gaol at Ipswich: - William John Drake alias William Smith, 24, burglary and robbery at Brome, and Newton Flotman;
8	BYLES Benjamin Stannard	Death	17.03.1857	The Bury and Norwich Post	DIED. On the 6th inst. [06 Mar 1857], at Dunston, in his 30th year, Mr. Benjamin Stannard Byles, late of Newton Flotman.....
9	WHITTAKER John	Death	21.07.1857	The Bury and Norwich Post	DIED. On the 10th inst. [10 Jul 1857], at Newton Flotman, suddenly, in his 75th year, Mr. John Whittaker.
10	MUSKETT James	Death	15.02.1859	The Morning Chronicle	DEATHS. On the 10th inst. [10 Feb 1859], in the Upper Close, Norwich, Mr. James Muskett, late of Newton Flotman, Norfolk, in his 85th year.
11	UPTON Edwin	Marriage	04.11.1862	The Bury and Norwich Post	MARRIED. On the 28th ult. [28 Oct 1862], at Newton Flotman. Edwin, third son of Mr. William Upton, Broadway, Halesworth, to Emma Maria, youngest daughter of Mr. John Raven, of Swainsthorpe, in this county.
12	BALLS John	Death	04.05.1869	The Bury and Norwich Post	DIED. On the 21st ult. [21 Apr 1869], aged 79, Mr. JOHN BALLS, farmer, of Newton Flotman.
13	BALLS John	Death	21.08.1869	The Ipswich Journal	MICHAELMAS, 1869. GEO. DURRANT . Begs attention to the fixtures of the following Sales of LIVE and DEAD AGRICULTURAL STOCK: Newton Flotman, near Norwich. On Thursday. October 7th, FOR the Executors of Mr. JOHN BALLS.
14	DRAKE Elizabeth	Marriage	08.11.1870	The Bury and Norwich Post	NORWICH. , MARRIED. On the 1st inst. [01 Nov 1870], at Newton Flotman, Mr. J. Gooch, to Elizabeth, eldest daughter of the late Mr. W. Drake, farmer, both of the above parish.